

FREE PANEL DISCUSSION AT COSI

THE EVOLUTION OF RELIGION

WITH
NPR's NEAL
CONAN

Where do our religious beliefs come from? Have religious beliefs served an evolutionary purpose? Join us in the WOSU@COSI Studios for a spirited panel discussion on the intersection of science and religion, followed by a question-and-answer session. Scheduled speakers include:

- Moderator Neal Conan, host of NPR's Talk of the Nation
- Nicolas Wade, New York Times science writer and author of Before the Dawn and The Faith Instinct
- Lionel Tiger, Charles Darwin Professor of Anthropology, Emeritus at Rutgers University, and author of God's Brain

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 2011, 7-9 PM

WOSU@COSI Studios, 333 West Broad Street, Columbus, Ohio 43215.

PROGRAM IS FREE BUT RESERVATIONS ARE REQUIRED. TO REGISTER, VISIT <http://evolutionofreligion.eventbrite.com/> OR CALL 614.228.2674 FOR DETAILS.

Supported by a grant from the John Templeton Foundation.

Panel discussion will be streamed live online at www.wosu.org/streaming
